

The Medieval Market: rules and regulations for MEDELTIDSVECKAN 2019

Dear market participant, these rules are extensive. They exist due to the fact that the Medieval Week Market is quite the unique market. All of us who work and participate in the market are passionate about our craft and our market as a whole. Together, we all aim to improve the market's future and its quality.

Our goal is that all exhibitors (vendors, restaurateurs and artisans), market stalls and wares together give a good illusion of a medieval market. Upon approval of your application, you agree to abide by these rules.

The organizers can be contacted if you want tips, advices or support. Fill out your application thoroughly so that organizer can support and assist you in the best way possible. The Medieval Market is organized in co-operation with goGotland. This broadens the skills and resources for the Medieval Week in terms of taking care of and developing the market for the future.

It is important that we all shoulder a joint responsibility for the reputation of the Market and the Medieval Week. Please read carefully what is expected of you as a market exhibitor.

Warm welcome to the market at Medieval Week 2019

Best Regards,

John Friederich, Market Coordinator
